FALL FLIGHTS

Program Update

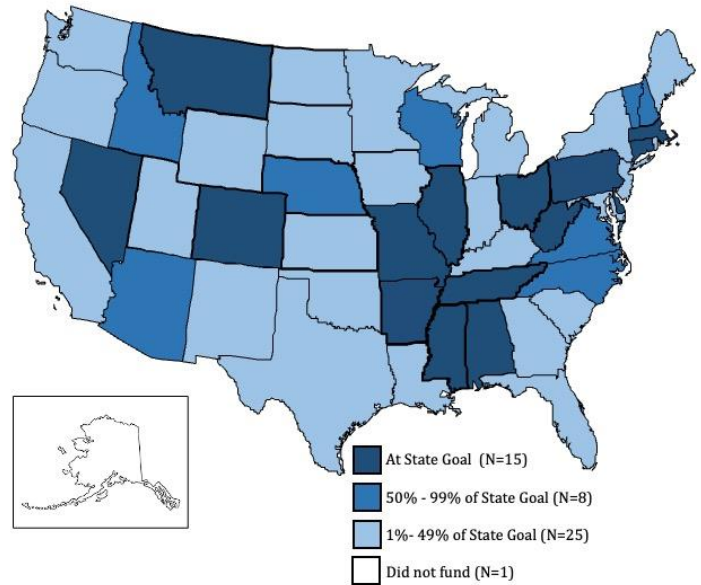

Thank You!

- To the 48 states that invested $5,448,918.
- To the directors, or their proxies, from 32 states who participated in Fall Flights Listening Sessions.
- To the staff from the 12 MAFWA states who participated in state team meetings.
- To Ducks Unlimited Inc. and Delta Waterfowl for matching state investments.
- To DU Canada and Manitoba Habitat Conservancy for conservation delivery.
- To everyone who advocated for Fall Flights and North American Wetland Conservation Act (NAWCA) appropriations.

If we all do a little individually, we can accomplish a lot together!

Forty-eight states contributed $US 5,448,918 to Canadian waterfowl habitat projects during 2023-24. This amount surpasses the previous record of $5,270,612 in 2020-21, AFWA’s interim goal of states contributing $5 million annually by 2026, and puts us ahead of schedule in reaching our shared goal of states contributing $10 million by 2031. Since Fall Flights’ formalization in 1991, states have invested $107,033,071 resulting in more than $500 million in conservation actions.

It all starts with states committing to this team effort. Fifteen states are leading the way with commitments at or above goal. This year, Arkansas and Pennsylvania joined this pioneering group. Additionally, nine states are more than halfway to their goal, two years ahead of the 2026 target date. Nine states increased their contributions by more than $1,000, including Arkansas, Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, North Carolina, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. Pennsylvania and Arkansas led the way with increases of $198,000 and $180,000, respectively.

The Fall Flights manager, partners, and Advisory Committee members are ready to work with all states to assist in reaching or exceeding the 50% of goal milestone to ensure success by 2026.

Making the Most of Agency Dollars

DU matched $4,976,505 of state investments, thus with NAWCA funding, the investment grew to $US 19.9M. Delta Waterfowl and Manitoba Habitat Conservancy (MHC) invested and matched the remaining $472,413 of state funding, which grew to $US 1.9M. Given currency exchange rates, the $US 21.8M funds generated an additional $CAN 6.5M that was invested in Canadian habitat. Total Canadian breeding grounds investments were $CAN 28.3 million.

The Conservation Need

Based on currently available information, the 5-year habitat goals for the Canadian Joint Ventures are to conserve 4 million acres at a cost of $CAN 1 billion. The 20-year outlook will require the conservation of 14 million acres at an estimated cost of $CAN 5 billion. This seeks to conserve the national wetland base and migratory bird habitats through a thoughtful combination of habitat securement, enhancement, and management, promotion of sustainable land use, landowner incentives, and progressive policy and regulation.
