BACKGROUND

The Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies
Founded in 1902, the Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies is the official representative of the state, territorial and provincial fish and wildlife agencies of North America. The Association works to support the leadership of state fish and wildlife agencies by advocating for fish and wildlife conservation and promoting cooperation among fish and wildlife agencies. The Association’s membership includes every state and territorial fish and wildlife agency, along with the Canadian provincial agencies, the Mexican state agencies, and several federal agencies with wildlife management responsibility. The Association’s staff is made up of over 20 biologists, scientists, policy specialists, and educators with expertise on topics from migratory birds to fish habitat to agency management. For more information, see the Association’s web site at http://www.fishwildlife.org.

Management Assistance Team
The Management Assistance Team (MAT) is part of the Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies. We provide leadership and organizational development to state fish and wildlife agencies and other AFWA member agencies. Because we believe that the health and sustainability of North America’s natural resources rests in the hands of the individuals and organizations who manage them, the Management Assistance Team (MAT) aspires to further the conservation goals of state fish and wildlife agencies through organizational and leadership development of agency staff at all levels. With the support of our world-class leadership development programs, and through the inter-organizational partnerships we help to forge, state fish and wildlife agencies will be able to navigate change successfully, and respond immediately and effectively to shifting natural, political, and economic conditions. SCOPE OF WORK

Project Overview
The Association is seeking a contractor to update and revise the Guidebook. Updates may include best practices on conducting online meetings, ensuring public participation, soliciting diverse opinions, using technology to engage the public, trends towards mutualism, the growing challenges for commissioners in continuing to meet expectations of a changing public, interviews with current Commissioners, etc. MAT staff will also work with the contractor to create a summary/highlight sheet of items from the Guidebook, a slide deck presentation, and a recorded 30-minute webinar. The purpose of this project is to provide a resource for Commissioners of wildlife management agencies that offers some guidance on dealing with their role as an agent of public trust, engaging a wide audience with diverse perspectives, optimizing the use of technologies to gather such perspectives, and understanding the complexities of managing wildlife within a political structure.

Project Goal and Needs
To provide a set of resources for wildlife agencies Commissioners that will guide them in managing state wildlife resources as an agent of public trust.

As a result of this project, the Guidebook will have been updated, a summary sheet of the Guidebook will be posted on the website, and a recorded 30-minute webinar will be posted on the website.

Services Required/Vendor Responsibilities
In completing this project, the selected vendor will perform the following duties. The Vendor will:
- Edit existing Guidebook;
- Update existing Guidebook to remove outdated information and include updated laws, regulations, and best practices;
- Conduct informational interviews with current Commissioners to get their perspectives and incorporate them into the Guidebook;
- Create a summary sheet of the Guidebook;
- Conduct a 30-minute recorded webinar;
- Work with the MAT staff and meet on a regular basis to update progress; and
- Provide completed deliverables to the Association by August 15, 2022.

EVALUATION OF PROPOSALS

Evaluation Process
Association staff will review proposals and conduct interviews with vendors. Final selection of vendor will be subject to appropriate Association approval.

Selection Criteria
Selection will be based on our assessment of best value for the Association, taking into account cost as well as the following factors:
- Prior experience of the personnel overseeing and directly involved in producing the final product;
- Information provided by vendors’ references; and
- Information from the vendor about the vendors ability to complete the work in the allotted time

Note: Small businesses, minority-owned firms, and women's business enterprises are encouraged to apply.
