

Grasslands Conservation in Northern Mexico

You're Invited: Learn about grassland bird conservation in northern Mexico

August 9th, 1:00 – 2:00pm EDT

Join Arvind Panjabi, Bird Conservancy of the Rockies, and David Borre, Pronatura Noreste, for an exciting conversation.

Southern Wings provides state agencies such as Montana, Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota and more the ability to complement their in-state investment for Species of Greatest Conservation Need, including Baird's sparrow, Sprague's pipit, and long-billed curlew with the protection and improvement of wintering habitat for these same species. Full annual-cycle conservation is the only way to have successful long-term conservation. Find out how supporting conservation work in Mexico can help your state meet the objectives of your SWAPs.

Southern Wings

- offers an easy, transparent, and flexible process for states to effectively conserve their migratory bird species of greatest conservation need;
- is a critical complement to in-state investment on migratory bird stop over and breeding habitats;
- leverages limited state funds and can provide non-federal match for SWG; and
- helps keep species off the Endangered Species Act by addressing annual cycle conservation needs.
